

Turn Your Policies Into a Private AI Compliance Assistant

Train Eckho Bots with your policies, procedures, standards, manuals, FAQs, internal rules, and compliance documents - then share a simple app-like assistant your staff can use anytime.

Make compliance knowledge easier to access, understand, and apply - without exposing confidential internal documents.

The compliance knowledge problem

Policies, procedures, compliance manuals, internal rules, and regulatory guidance are often buried in folders, PDFs, intranets, and shared drives. Staff do not always know where to look, which policy applies, or what the correct internal answer is. Compliance teams and managers end up answering the same questions repeatedly.

A private, source-led solution

Eckho Bots turns your approved compliance and policy material into a private AI assistant. Staff open a simple app-like interface, ask a question, and receive answers based on the documents you provided.

From approved documents to a private compliance app

Practical compliance use cases

Internal policy support

Help staff find and understand the internal policies that apply to their questions.

Procedure guidance

Guide employees through approved compliance procedures and internal processes.

Staff conduct and rules

Make workplace rules, conduct standards, and internal expectations easier to access.

Risk and governance

Give governance and risk teams a practical way to share approved internal knowledge.

Health and safety

Help teams access approved health, safety, and workplace procedure information.

Financial compliance

Support staff with internal financial-services rules, procedures, and compliance guidance.

Insurance and claims

Turn claims procedures and internal insurance guidance into accessible answers.

Branch consistency

Give branches and franchise teams consistent answers from the same approved source.

Private by design

- ✓ Your compliance documents stay private
- ✓ Your content stays yours
- ✓ The AI answers from the material you provide
- ✓ Ideal for confidential internal policy knowledge
- ✓ Share access only with authorised staff
- ✓ Not a generic public chatbot
- ✓ Keep answers aligned with approved source material

How it works

- Create your compliance bot
Set up a private assistant for your organisation or team.
- Train it with approved material
Add policies, procedures, manuals, FAQs, and internal rules.
- Share the private app
Give authorised staff a simple assistant they can use anytime.

Consistent answers

Help staff follow the same approved internal source material.

Less repetition

Reduce repeated policy questions for compliance teams and managers.

Faster access

Turn buried documents into answers staff can actually use.

Controlled sharing

Keep access limited to the people who should use it.
